

Learning Objectives Verb List Per Level

KNOWLEDGE (L1)	COMPREHENSION (L2)	APPLICATION (L3)
Cite	Arrange	Adapt
Choose	Associate	Apply
Define	Clarify	Chart
Label	Classify	Demonstrate
List	Convert	Develop
Locate	Describe	Employ
Match	Diagram	Extend
Name	Draw	Extrapolate
Recall	Discuss	Illustrate
Recognize	Estimate	Infer
Record	Explain	Interpolate
Repeat	Express	Interpret
Select	Identify	Manipulate
State	Outline	Modify
Write	Paraphrase	Order
	Restate	Predict
	Sort	Prepare
	Summarize	Produce
	Translate	Relate
		Transcribe
		Use

Learning Objectives Verb List Per Level (continued)

ANALYSIS (L4)	SYNTHESIS (L5)	EVALUATION (L6)
Analyze	Assemble	Approve
Appraise	Build	Assess
Audit	Combine	Choose
Breakdown	Compile	Conclude
Calculate	Compose	Confirm
Categorize	Construct	Criticize
Certify	Create	Critique
Compare	Design	Diagnose
Contrast	Devise	Evaluate
Correlate	Discover	Justify
Criticize	Formulate	Prioritize
Deduce	Generate	Prove
Defend	Integrate	Rank
Detect	Make	Rate
Discriminate	Organize	Recommend
Examine	Plan	Research
Inspect	Predict	Resolve
Investigate	Prepare	Revise
Question	Propose	Select
Solve	Reorganize	Support
Survey	Set up	Validate

Learning Objectives

Use this tool to identify the objectives for each lesson or module you will be teaching. These objectives should be general and give the learner a list of what to expect during the course. Assign each objective a level according to the key. Pick out the general objectives for each section of your course and populate your PowerPoint with them, and then create objectives for each topic/subtopic you've identified. You won't present these objectives; rather, they will help you organize your course and help you determine which strategy to use to cover each topic. After identifying your objectives, explain how you will assess that each objective is completed successfully. Assessment might come in the form of activities, exercises, or tests.

Here is a basic formula for objectives: A (Audience), B (Behavior), C (Condition), D (Degree). [it might be worth it to explain this a little more]

This formula is a good recipe to follow, but you will know best what objectives will suit your audience.

Lesson/Module:

By the end of this lesson/module you will be able to:

Objective ____

(L#____)

.....
Assessment method:
.....

Topic/Sub-topic:

By the end of this lesson/module you will be able to:

Objective ____

(L#____)

.....
Assessment method:
.....

Add an "objectives" slide to the beginning of the course and before each section.